Technological Innovations Reshaping Refining, Petrochemicals and Chemicals

Revolutionising business, client, and customer experience

2017 is an interesting year for the downstream oil & gas industry. Technology is REDEFINING the way businesses operate, with the shift towards digitalization and technological innovation becoming the key focus for most operators. The industry is experiencing a major shift and is moving into an era of 'smart' technology.

Downstream operators are becoming increasingly sophisticated and flexible so that they can produce clean, energy efficient fuels, from a wide variety of hydrocarbon resources. They are also increasingly turning the spotlight on technologies that can help reduce capital expenditure, reduce risk and optimize asset cost and performance.

The agenda for the 10th Anniversary Asian Downstream Summit is designed to help operators achieve all these objectives.

Taking place on the 25-26 October 2017 at the Sands Expo & Convention Centre, the Asian Downstream Summit is THE must-attend show for refiners, petrochemical operators and specialty chemicals players to converge and discuss how digital, process and catalyst technologies are revolutionizing their operations and maximizing their efficiency.

The anchor oil and gas event during Singapore International Energy Week, hosted by the Energy Market Authority will gather 800+ downstream oil & gas professionals and leading solution providers under one roof to offer you insights on some of the key innovations in the industry.

The event will revolve around two strategy-focused themes:

DIGITAL INNOVATIONS,
MANUFACTURING & AUTOMATION

ACHIEVING OPERATIONAL
EXCELLENCE

"This year, for our 10th Anniversary Asian Downstream Summit, we have specially crafted our agenda to incorporate a specific focus on digital, process and catalyst technologies, becoming the only regional event to delve deeply into exploring how these technologies can transform your operations." says Tanushree Mulraj, Event Director for Asian Downstream Summit.

She continues: "You will learn how to navigate digital unknowns in the new age of innovation and adopt the right technologies that will accelerate your journey to achieving operational excellence. We believe that both digital & catalyst technologies can help you leverage untapped opportunities to improve productivity and efficiency."

Speaker highlights include:

- Datuk Sazali Hamzah, Managing Director & Chief Executive Officer, PETRONAS Chemicals Group Berhad, Malaysia
