2018

Press release: for immediate release

October 2018

Senior Minister of State, Dr Koh Poh Koon, to announce the Award Winners the 11th annual Asian Downstream Summit Digital Transformation Awards

Asian Downstream Summit is the anchor oil and gas event during Singapore International Energy Week (SIEW), hosted by the Energy Market Authority. The event will gather 1,000+ industry professionals and oil & gas leaders under one roof to offer insights on the latest innovations in the industry. Singapore International Energy Week (SIEW) is expected to attract over 10,000+ energy professionals in Singapore.

We are thrilled to announce that voting has opened for the 2018 “Asian Downstream Summit Digital Transformation Awards” (#DT2018). The award ceremony aims to recognize and reward top enterprising refiners and innovative solution providers & technology providers in the oil & gas industry.

Dr Koh Poh Koon, Senior Minister of State, Ministry of Trade, and Industry & Ministry of National Development of Singapore will be the guest of honour and announce the winners of the Digital Transformation Awards 2018.

Winners will be awarded in front of the industry’s leading figureheads at the Award Ceremony during the Opening Plenary sessions on 31st October 2018 at the Asian Downstream Summit.

Top Nominee posters will also be printed and showcased at the Exhibition Hall open to all conference delegates and exhibition visitors.

The 3 Award categories are included as below:

- Best Digital Transformation Programme (Operator – refinery, petrochemical, chemicals)
- Best Innovative Technology for Improving Operational Efficiency (Digital)
- Best Innovative Technology for Improving Operational Efficiency (Other technology)

We have shortlisted 4 entries per category and winners will be decided on the number of votes they collect.
